SIMA VERZINO

MARCELLINO RISTORANTE
MUSICIAN AND RESTAURATEUR

Throughout her life, Sima Verzino has honed her true passion as a vocalist and performer, resulting in a prosperous music career. After her husband, Chef Marcellino, came into her life, Verzino realized she had yet another goal to achieve. Supporting her beloved as the co-owner of their award-winning Marcellino Ristorante in Old Town Scottsdale has truly brought her "over the moon." Verzino continues to pursue her true passion as a vocalist, performing at Marcellino Ristorante every Thursday night, among other venues, including Rome, Italy this August, and looks forward to a future filled with adventure.

"Be kind. Be righteous. Be gentle. Rule from the heart, as it always has the answers." — Sima Verzino

Q: What makes you a Dynamic Woman?

A: My diversity. I'm a vocalist, musician and restaurateur.

Q: What were you like as a child?

A: I never held my emotions back. I did exceptionally well in school but was continually focused on my music and dance, which meant everything to me. I was always deeply compassionate about the world I lived in and questioned all. Today, I realize it was all about my connection with the universe and the part I was suppose to play.

Q: How did you become interested in the restaurant industry?

A: By falling in love with my husband, Chef Marcellino, while we were both in Rome, Italy. Watching this Renaissance man evolve in his creativity and passion left me breathless to join him in his endeavor to create a world-renowned restaurant together.
